

Comprehensive Laparoscopic Gynecology Course

October 26 - 27, 2018

Customized
Laparoscopic
Surgery Training
Available

Program Directors

Dr. Stephen Bates MD, MSc, FRCSC
Course Director, Clinical Professor,
Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology
McMaster University

Dr. Nicholas A. Leyland BAsc, MD, MHCM, FRCSC
Professor and Chair, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, Faculty of Health Sciences, Michael G.
DeGroote School of Medicine, McMaster University,
Chief, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology

Location

St. Joseph's Healthcare Hamilton
Charlton Campus

Learning Objectives

By the end of the program registrants will:

- have a broad understanding of the management of patients seeking minimally invasive care of gynecological problems.
- familiarize themselves with the advanced minimally invasive surgical techniques in gynecology particularly laparoscopic hysterectomy.
- further their knowledge in pelvic dissection and adhesiolysis.
- understand how to minimize complications during gynecological laparoscopic surgery.
- acquire an understanding of the management of intra-operative and post-operative complications in laparoscopic surgery.

Early Bird Discount Available. Visit our website at:

www.cmas.ca/gyne-course

Centre for
Minimal Access Surgery
Hamilton, Ontario

St. Joseph's
Healthcare  Hamilton